Aligning on your deliverability goals

Much more than warming up a list.

2019 · Origins

Darren founded InboxAlly in 2019 after spending 10 years running an Email Service Provider (ESP).

The problem

Legitimate senders with clean lists were still consistently landing in spam.

The solution

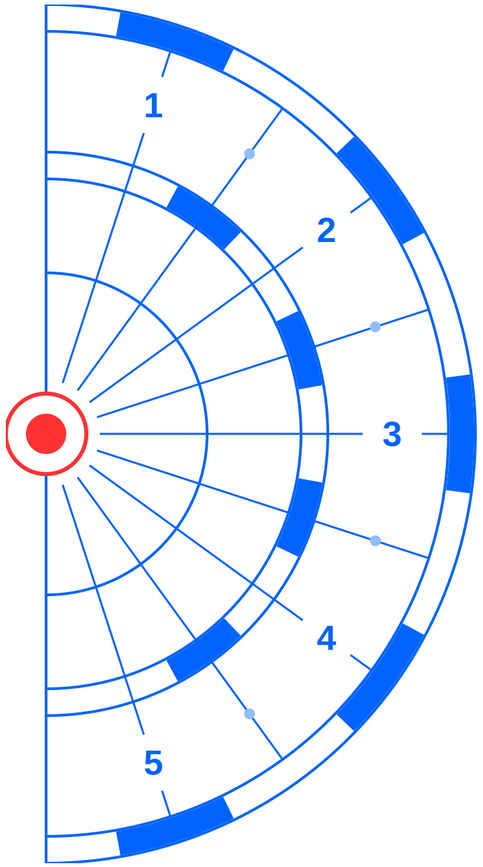

So Darren built InboxAlly to fix placement visibility, reputation repair, and the engagement signals mailbox providers use to decide who to trust.

Over to you

Share a bit about yourselves and your team.

Outline the current deliverability issues you are running into right now.

The platform & customer-reported results

1 Live seed engagement
Real interactions in Gmail, Workspace, Microsoft consumer, M365, and Yahoo.

2 Native integration
Direct Google Postmaster Tools integration for authoritative health metrics.

3 Intelligence suite
List verification, IA Assistant, IA Score, and automated AI digest.

4 Works with any ESP
Zero friction — no API keys, no credentials, and no DNS changes required.

5 Ecosystem & training
11 free tools and complete Platform Certification program.

Results customers report

“Emails went from 60% spam to 0% in about two months”

“Domain reputation from Bad to High in roughly six weeks”

“By end of month, 100% of emails to inbox, 50–96% daily to Primary”

“Open rates from ~30% to 70%+”

Published case studies: Seido Knives, Surveylab, Mas Vashu

Slide title

A short supporting line.

Use this layout when a slide needs a proper paragraph. Lead with the main point, then add the context or detail that supports it. Keep paragraphs to four or five lines so they still read well on a shared screen.

A second short paragraph can carry an example, a caveat or what happens next.
